Library for Allentown Hospital.

The medical library of the late Dr. Orlando Fegley was presented to the Allentown Hospital. Dr. Fegley was the first chief surgeon of that institution. The library is the gift to the hospital of the family of Dr. Fegley, who always took strong interest in the institution. The gift includes the book cases and the books. The latter numbers several hundred volumes, many of them of great value. The gift is greatly appreciated by the board of trustees and will for generations attest the deep interest Dr. Fegley and his family have evinced in the hospital.
