

Roberts Named Chairman, Silverman Honored

Theodore Donmoyer, M.D.

The chairman's gavel changed hands at The Allentown Hospital's annual meeting June 23 at the Lehigh Consistory. At this historic meeting, the Association endorsed the Board's resolution paving the way for the restructuring of The Allentown Hospital and the Allentown and Sacred Heart Hospital Center (PROBE February, 1982) and to establish "The Associates of The Allentown Hospital." Five members of the Board of Directors were reelected as well.

William C. Roberts was elected to a one-year term as Chairman of the Board of Directors succeeding Morton I. Silverman, M.D. who will continue as a member of the Board. Dr. Silverman, a member since 1969, was presented with a silver bowl in gratitude for his three years as chairman. During his remarks, Dr. Silverman reviewed the many accomplishments of the Hospital during the year and thanked the Board of Directors and the entire Hospital Family for their dedication and support during his terms of office.

Mr. Roberts had been First Vice Chairman of the Board and had chaired the executive committee prior to being elected Chairman. He is president of the Collier Group and has been a member of the Hospital's Board since 1974.

The important endorsement of the Board of Directors' resolution changed the Bylaws whereby both The Allentown Hospital and A&SHHC would become equal subsidiaries under a parent holding company. It further allowed for the creation of "The Associates of The Allentown Hospital," a non-voting group which will consist of the former Life Members of the Association and other citizens from the Lehigh Valley interested in supporting the goals and mission of The Allentown Hospital (see related story, President's Corner, page 2).

President's Corner:

The Associates of The Allentown Hospital

We are very excited about the creation of "The Associates of The Allentown Hospital" which was approved at the Annual Meeting on June 23, 1982. The purposes of "The Associates" are to assist the Board of Directors in improving dialogue between the Hospital and the community; to assist in achieving a broader understanding of the philosophy of the Hospital; and to assist in mobilizing the citizens and other community resources on behalf of the Hospital. "The Associates" will serve in an advisory role to the Board of Directors and Hospital President in furthering the mission of the Hospital.

The members of "The Associates of The Allentown Hospital" will be composed of citizens primarily from the Greater Lehigh Valley who have expressed a continuing interest in the pursuit of excellence in health care, education, research and other community service by The Allentown Hospital. Any person who was a Life Member of The Allentown Hospital Association will automatically become a member of "The Associates." Other members of the community who have expressed an interest in The Allentown Hospital will also be invited to participate in the new organization.

Associates will be invited from time to time to participate in special education programs and may serve on committees and attend other hospital activities that will be of mutual interest to them and the Hospital. The organization will have a volunteer President and will have other officers as necessary to carry out its purposes and related activities.

We are looking forward to the establishment of "The Associates" as a very positive force to enhance the Hospital and its image in the community. Work will begin immediately to develop the specifics of the new organization in conjunction with many of our current members.

Three-Year Accreditation Awarded

The Allentown Hospital has received the maximum accreditation of three years by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH).

"We commend The Allentown Hospital for its successful and continuing efforts to comply with the standards set forth by JCAH," noted Donald A. Avant, director, Hospital Accreditation Program, in his written notification.

The application to be surveyed by a JCAH team is a voluntary process for hospitals. The Allentown Hospital was visited for two days by a three-member team consisting of a physician, a registered nurse and a hospital administrator. Accreditation of The Allentown Hospital by the JCAH means that the Hospital's efforts to provide high-quality health care have received professional and national recognition.

In a letter dated June 14, 1982, Darryl R. Lippman, Hospital President, thanked all of the employees and the Medical and Dental Staff for their continuous delivery of superb quality care that made possible the three-year accreditation.

Maternal and Children's Center Sponsors Events

The Maternal and Children's Center sponsored its first Supersitter class for youngsters 11 years of age and older who are interested in babysitting tips. The overwhelming number of requests for registration sparked a decision to schedule a second class in July. That class is entirely filled as well.

The 115 future babysitters were presented a myriad of information to help them find jobs and to do the job when they have one. Speakers included an Allentown policeman, fireman, and members of the Hospital staff.

Demonstrations were given by Ken Stevens, R.N., nurse educator; Peg Parry, R.N., emergency department; Patti Weber, Lehigh Valley Poison Center and Chris Messina, director of public relations.

Several handouts were distributed as well as a SuperSitter certificate of attendance for each of the boys and girls.

Four New Member Treatment Hospitals Join Poison Center Network

Four new hospitals have become members of the Lehigh Valley Poison Center (LVPC) hospital network, bringing the total number of member hospitals to 19. The hospitals to most recently join the network are Gnadon Huetten Memorial Hospital, Lehigh; North Penn Hospital, Lansdale; Quakertown Community Hospital, Quakertown; and Sacred Heart General Hospital, Chester. Grand View Hospital, Sellersville, was the first hospital to become a member of the network in July, 1978. In the past four years, 18 other hospitals have signed on as members of this valuable regional network. They include: Abington, Memorial Hospital, Abington; The Allentown Hospital, Allentown Osteopathic Hospital, Allentown and Sacred Heart Hospital Center, all of Allentown; Coaldale State General Hospital, Coaldale; Doylestown Hospital, Doylestown; Easton Hospital, Easton; Muhlenberg Medical Center, Bethlehem; Palmerton Hospital, Palmerton; Pocono Hospital, East Stroudsburg; Pottstown Memorial Medical Center, Pottstown; Sacred Heart Hospital, Allentown; St. Luke's Hospital, Bethlehem; and Suburban General Hospital, Norristown.

Designated as a satellite of the National Poison Center Network (NPCN), the LVPC provides updated information for the 19 member treatment hospitals throughout the region.

Upon request, the staff of member hospitals receive written copies of poison information via a telecopier machine. As a benefit to member hospitals' medical programs, they are provided with a continuing in-service education program by the LVPC staff which provides professional training in standardizing treatment procedures in handling poison emergencies.

Through annual meetings or seminars, and through visits to member hospitals, the LVPC staff constantly updates the information base of member hospital personnel.

Each member hospital receives the POISON INFORMATION BULLETIN, published 10 times a year by the national headquarters staff of the National Poison Center Network. This professional educational tool reviews types of poisoning and treatment procedures, drugs and other pertinent subjects.

Although benefits to the member hospitals' medical programs are impressive, non-medical program advantages include an outreach program that can expand the member hospital's favorable image in many ways. For example, the member hospitals' name appears on the Poison Center letterhead, giving the institution exposure through each communication that leaves the Center.

By arranging to distribute Mr. Yuk stickers through a department of the member hospital or as part of a community-wide educational activity, the member hospital can provide a splendid opportunity for group participation by many kinds of volunteers throughout their treatment area.

Finally, the member hospitals become identified with a new and growing nationally coordinated health service in the minds of people throughout the total area it serves.

Employee Benefits

P.E.S.T. Awards

Over 130 cost-saving suggestions have been logged since the initiation of the P.E.S.T. (Progress Eighties Savings Techniques) program in September, 1981. The P.E.S.T. program was designed so employees can win up to $500 by making suggestions to reduce costs and improve procedures. In this on-going program, a panel of judges reviews the suggestions and cash prizes are awarded to employees whose ideas are implemented. Others receive meal coupons for workable suggestions.

A $100 prize was awarded to Carolyn Abeles, head payroll clerk, for recommending that the Hospital utilize an electronic postal scale. It is estimated that the Hospital will save more than $1200 each year with the new precision scale. The electronic model, which has a lighted dial that automatically weighs the mail, will also save physical time and effort for the messengers and reduce the chance of inaccurately measured mail.

Other suggestions not in the cost-saving category were submitted by the following employees who received meal tickets for their ideas: Theresa Latham, R.N., operating room; Naomi Solomon, L.P.N., W-3; and Barbara Weidman, administrative coordinator of quality assurance, utilization review.

Suggestion blanks may be found on top of the P.E.S.T. box located in the Hospital cafeteria.
