Meet July's DAISY Award Recipient

The July DAISY Award was presented to Sandy Gentile, RN, Infusion Center. Here are excerpts from the four patient nominations Gentile received:

- ▶ "Sandy makes the hours go faster for me. She jokes with her patients and puts you at ease. While all the nurses are very good and nice, I had Sandy as my nurse for my last two treatments, and she was wonderful. That's why I would like to nominate Sandy for this award as recognition for her caring service and nature."
- ▶ "Sandy is always nice, thorough, helpful and positive, like a garden of daisies."
- ▶ "I am a cancer patient. Sandy was my primary oncology nurse. Sandy is, without a doubt, an extraordinary oncology nurse. She deserves to be honored with the DAISY Award. It is in my opinion all cancer patients are blessed to have her care."
- ▶ "This nurse always goes above and beyond every single time. Sandy is kind, compassionate, empathetic and knowledgeable every single time I come in. She always addresses my questions and concerns during my visit. I cannot say enough about her."

Where is it at LVH-Pocono?

LVHN Daily Will Launch July 9

LVHN Daily, an everyday source for LVHN news online, is coming to LVH-Pocono on July 9.

The website is currently available to colleagues who work in the Lehigh Valley and Hazleton. On July 9, we'll take an important step forward by making LVHN Daily – and the news in every region – accessible to colleagues throughout LVHN. It's another move in the process to fully integrate our health network.

LVHN Daily will contain the news and information you need and so much more. You'll be able to watch videos and see more photos of colleagues. You'll also be able to comment on stories, and submit stories, photos and videos of your own that show why you are #LVHNProud. LVHN Daily also makes it easy to find LVHN information on our social media sites so you can share it with people in your social network. Remember to use #LVHNProud.

You will access the website by clicking the LVHN Daily icon on the intranet home page. After it launches, you will receive a new version of LVHN Weekly via email every Friday. It will be different than the magazine-style version you receive now. The new LVHN Weekly will be completely electronic and contain headlines that link to the week's stories on LVHN Daily. LVHN Weekly will contain both network and site-specific news.

Communication Survey Extended to July 9

Your voice matters at LVHN, and we want to hear feedback from as many colleagues as possible. That's why we have extended the LVHN Communication Survey until July 9. We want to know how you receive LVHN news and information, and how we can enhance colleague communication at LVHN. If you take the survey, you will be entered into a drawing to win an LVHN gift basket.

Please take a few moments to complete this colleague communications survey. Based on your feedback, we'll explore and implement new and innovative ways to make it more convenient for you to receive important LVHN news and information.
