Leaders Plan for LVHN's Future

BY RICK MARTUSCELLI · OCTOBER 31, 2016

N00608 Leadership 9171

◀ Back

Picture 1 of 5

Next ▶

One year ago, LVHN leaders gathered in Mack Boulevard’s auditorium facing a serious problem. Our health network was nearing the midpoint of fiscal year 2016 (FY16), a period in which we lost $24 million. Their task: Identify innovative opportunities to take quantum leaps in access and service. By encouraging “extreme ownership” of our delivery model, they succeeded. The work they started at that retreat resulted in an extraordinary turnaround, which helped us end the fiscal year $20 million on the plus side. President and Chief Executive Office Brian Nester, DO, MBA, FACOEP, talked about our accomplishments during the recent Colleague Forum.

As we near the midpoint of FY17, our health network is in a much stronger position than it was one year ago. As a result, our leaders seized the opportunity to further strategize, collaborate and develop innovative ideas to ensure we remain an exceptional health network. They began the journey by returning to Mack’s auditorium on Oct. 17 and 18 for a retreat – facilitated by colleagues from organizational effectiveness – to identify and refine specific strategies to further enhance our positive FY17 trajectory and position LVHN for success in FY18.

At the retreat, leaders studied “The Founder’s Mentality,” a book by business strategists Chris Zook and James Allen. To avoid problems associated with growth, the authors say an organization must have the “founder’s mentality,” behaviors embodied by a bold, ambitious founder.

The book delves into an organization’s ability to sustain performance and avoid problems associated with growth by discussing the relationship between three important traits within “The Founder’s Mentality”:

1. An insurgent’s clear mission and purpose
2. An unambiguous owner mindset
3. A relentless obsession with the front line – our colleagues and health care consumers

In his opening remarks, Nester motivated the group by encouraging them to be insurgents and innovators. “Insurgency doesn’t wait to be perfect. Let’s do what we can do now,” said Nester, who praised the group for their leadership in helping us turn things around last year. “This is an opportunity to be audacious. Don’t fear that,” he said. “Let’s take the time to think about the issues and develop laser focus.”

Leaders representing every area of our health network attended the retreat. Each leader was assigned to one of five groups to accelerate the work in progress and jumpstart the FY18 budget planning process. Each group focused the conversation on a specific objective:

1. Making it easy for patients to access our services with one call or one click
2. Growing our service lines to enable more patients to receive better, more affordable care
3. Ensuring patients receive the highest quality health care by obtaining services at LVHN rather than seeking care outside the area when the same services are offered here
4. Improving the documentation of patient information to ensure appropriate reimbursement for the care we provide in our hospitals and ambulatory settings
5. Accelerating the turnaround at LVH–Schuylkill

Within the next few weeks, colleagues from these teams will refine the goals and tactics discussed during the retreat and continue to engage colleagues to accelerate the expected results. They will quantify the expected financial benefits and use the information to create LVHN’s budget for FY18.

“Surviving in today’s health care environment requires sophistication,” Nester said. “The specificity of the conversations and tactics discussed were at a level that can only occur at a health network made up of exceptional colleagues like ours.”

MyLVHN Cancer Care Portal Decommissioned

BY JENN FISHER · OCTOBER 31, 2016

Lehigh Valley Health Network's transition to a fully-integrated patient record took another major step this past weekend with the implementation of Beacon, the oncology application. In hematology oncology practices, Beacon replaces MOSAIQ®, the previous system.

With this implementation, the former MyLVHN Cancer Care Portal has been closed. Starting Oct. 29, each oncology patient will have his or her medical record available through Epic, which provides distinct benefits. Patients can now access their health information through an activated MyLVHN account. In

LEHIGH VALLEY HEALTH NETWORK

MyLVHNCancerCare
Patient Portal

CLOSED

In addition, if an oncology patient is admitted to a Lehigh Valley-based hospital, their oncology records will now be available to their inpatient care team.

Other Beacon Benefits:

- All appointments starting Oct. 29 and forward are scheduled in Epic.
- All oncology patient medical record information is now in Epic.
- Patients can now access their oncology (as well as primary care and other specialist) information through MyLVHN, as well as communicate with their care providers through secure MyLVHN messages.
- Patients will receive after-visit summaries following appointments.

Note: Radiation oncology practices still utilize MOSAIQ as their EMR system.

Learn About Atrial Fibrillation at a Free Event

BY RICK MARTUSCELLI · NOVEMBER 3, 2016

Atrial fibrillation (AFib), the most common heart rhythm disorder, can be a very serious condition. With AFib, the electrical signals in the upper chambers of the heart (atria) fire quickly and uncontrollably. The chambers quiver instead of contracting normally, which may cause blood to pool or clot. If a blood clot forms and becomes lodged in an artery in the brain, a stroke may occur.

Colleagues, family members and friends are invited to learn all about AFib at a free event featuring LVPG cardiologists Babak Bozorgnia, MD, Hari Joshi, MD, Nghia Hoang, DO, and Talha Nazir, MD. The

Thursday, Nov. 10

6:30-8 p.m.

physicians will discuss:

- Signs, symptoms and risk factors for AFib
- When to see a cardiologist
- Treatments that improve symptoms and prevent stroke
- New minimally invasive procedures for people who have an irregular heartbeat that is difficult to treat

This informational event will be held Thursday, Nov. 10, from 6:30-8 p.m. at two locations:

- LVH–Cedar Crest Kasych Family Pavilion, ECC rooms 6, 7 and 8
- LVH–Muhlenberg ECC rooms B, C and D

Patient Shuttle Stops Enhance Service in our Hospitals

BY TED WILLIAMS · NOVEMBER 2, 2016

Slowly but surely, they motor around the first and second floors of LVH–Cedar Crest and LVH–Muhlenberg, driving patients and visitors to their destinations. In fact, as many as 1,500 people use our shuttle service each week. Now, a new amenity has been added to make this convenience even more convenient.

As of June, “shuttle stops” have been added at both hospitals so patients and visitors don’t have to find the shuttles. Instead, the shuttle drivers can find them. Each stop has a wall phone that connects directly to a shuttle driver’s ASCOM phone, which tells the driver exactly where someone is waiting to be picked up. Benches have been added so people can sit comfortably until their ride arrives.

“It’s another way to enhance the patient experience,” says Kelley Gold, Manager, Guest Services. “We got the idea during a conference at Cleveland Clinic, and were able to put the idea into motion here.”

The inspiration came from a Terry’s Take blog by Terry Capuano, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, inviting colleagues to submit innovative ideas. Guest Services approached Capuano with the shuttle stops idea and got approval to use money from the LVHN Innovative Leadership Fund to support it. The necessary phone wiring, benches and signage were put in place at a total of seven stops on the two floors at LVH–Cedar Crest and nine stops on the floors at LVH–Muhlenberg.

“Comments from our Press Ganey patient satisfaction scores supported the need to help our patients and visitors get to and from their destinations within the hospital,” says Laura Harner, Director, Guest Services. “Since operationalizing the stops in June, we are seeing more and more positive comments in our surveys not only about the convenience of the shuttle stops, but the courtesy and helpfulness of the drivers, many of whom are mentioned by name.”

There are three shuttles at LVH–Cedar Crest, two of which are available 7 a.m.-7 p.m. on the first floor, and the third available 8 a.m.-4 p.m. on the second floor. There are two shuttles at LVH–Muhlenberg, one operational 7 a.m.-4:30 p.m. on the first floor, and the other 7 a.m.-3:30 p.m. on the second floor. The service is expected to expand at LVH–Muhlenberg with the opening of the Family Health Pavilion next summer.

Bereavement Support Group Helps Families Cope After Miscarriage, Stillbirth or the Loss of an Infant

BY SHEILA CABALLERO · NOVEMBER 2, 2016

Nothing changes your life more than the birth or loss of a precious infant. Families who experience loss during or after pregnancy need time to grieve and support from others. A new monthly support group at Lehigh Valley Hospital–Cedar Crest helps parents and their adult loved ones experiencing loss due to miscarriage, stillbirth or the loss of an infant.

“Family members express grief in their own unique way and at different times,” says hospice and bereavement coordinator Rhonda McMahon, LCSW.

“Having a safe place to express your loss and get support throughout the grief journey is so important to the healing process.”

A specialized bereavement counselor will create a safe, nonjudgmental and compassionate environment for adults to experience their loss and grief. Support also may come from other attendees who wish to share coping skills and resources they have discovered throughout their own grief journey.

The free support group does not require preregistration. Adults who have experienced infant or pregnancy loss are invited to drop in. For more information, contact Rhonda McMahon at 610-969-0330.

When: First Thursday of the month beginning Nov. 3

Where: Lehigh Valley Hospital–Cedar Crest
Kasych Family Pavilion–ECC 3

Time: 1-2:30 p.m.
