

Leonard Pool Society Recognizes Major Donors

Individuals and groups that have been major contributors to Lehigh Valley Hospital were recently made charter members of the Leonard Pool Society.

The Pool Society bears the name of the founder of the Allentown & Sacred Heart Hospital Center, now Lehigh Valley Hospital, Cedar Crest & I-78. The society was established in 1994 to mark the hospital's 20th anniversary and to recognize its major donors.

In 1995, individuals, businesses and organizations that donate $1,000 or more to the hospital on an annual basis for five years will be inducted into the society and receive a replica of the medallion presented to the charter members. They will also be invited to special events and to an annual reception where new members are recognized.

Charter members of The Pool Society include the Allentown Auxiliary of Lehigh Valley Hospital; the late Carl R. Anderson; the late S.H. Carl Bear; Philip and Muriel Berman of Allentown; Jack Busby of North Carolina; the late Henry Dent; Edward J. Donley of Allentown; Harvey L. Farr of Allentown; Fred D. Fister, MD, of Allentown; Richard Fleming of Zionsville; Robert Harned of Macungie; the late Charles Helwig; Elizabeth Hess of Allentown; the late William Hudders; Robert M. Jaeger, MD, of Allentown; and James C. Lanshe of Allentown.

Also, Lehigh Valley Hospital Auxiliary; J. Mauser Lerch of Allentown; John J. McCartney of Allentown; Donald Miller of Allentown; John and Dorothy Morgan of Tamaqua; the late Leonard Pool; the late Henry Scheirer; Morton Schneider of Allentown; and Morton I. Silverman, MD, of Allentown.

Nominations Open For Women's Awards

Women who exemplify leadership, dedicate themselves to a cause or serve as a role model are eligible for special achievement awards established and co-sponsored by Lehigh Valley Hospital and The Bon-Ton.

The Spirit of Women Awards will be presented to women who have made significant contributions in the areas of family, work and health. In addition to a memento of her achievements, each honoree will receive a $500 shopping spree at The Bon-Ton.

Nominations are being accepted for the awards now through Feb. 17. The three award recipients will be recognized on Thursday, March 23 during Spirit of Women 1995, a conference planned by a coalition of area organizations, community service agencies and businesses. WomanCare and The Bon-Ton are major sponsors of the event which will be held at the Holiday Inn Conference Center, Bethlehem.

Nomination forms can be obtained by calling Lehigh Valley Hospital at (610) 402-CARE.

Hospital Implements New Waste Management Program

Lehigh Valley Hospital has initiated a new waste management program that will substantially reduce the practice and processing costs of red bag (infectious waste) disposal for non-infectious materials.

Developed by a team of hospital employees, the new program is both cost-effective and environmentally sound without compromising the health and safety of patients and employees.

Phase 1 of the program has already been implemented successfully with the removal of red bag containers from areas considered non-infectious, including rest rooms, lobbies, waiting areas, kitchen nourishment areas, offices, conference rooms, employee lounges and clean holding areas. The red bag containers in these areas have been replaced with clear bag containers.

Phase 2 of the program will go into effect on January 30 in all patient care units (4A, 4B, 4C, TTU, 5B, 5C, 6B, 6C, 7B, 7C, 4S, SPU, PCCU, TOHU, MBU and Peds) and ancillary departments of the hospital. Phase 2 involves the placement of both clear and red bag containers in areas where infectious and non-infectious waste occurs.

According to Alan Boley, General Services, who co-chairs the Infectious Waste Initiative with Dan Andersen, Engineering, the hospital can save upwards of $120,000 annually by segregating waste materials.

“One of the most effective methods of reducing the overall cost of waste disposal is also one of the least expensive,” he says of separating infectious from general waste. “At the same time, it is an environment-friendly process that limits the need for incineration and landfill.

While the success of the program hinges on the cooperation and participation of hospital employees, Boley adds that the program involves only minor changes in their waste disposal practices.

“The most important point to remember is that, if the waste materials contain any blood or body fluids, they should be placed in red bag containers. If not, they can be placed in the clear bag container.”

The following chart illustrates correct waste disposal practices.

Place in Red Container	Place in Clear Container
Foleys	Tissues
Drains	I.V. Bags
Blue Pads	Newspapers
Dressings	Flowers
Chest Tubes	Paper Towels
I.V. Tubings	Dressing Wrappers
Drainage Tubings	I.V. Wrappers
Specimen Containers	Syringe Wrappers
	Attends (Diapers)

Serving on the Infectious Waste Initiative team with Boley and Andersen are Rebecca Bartow, Nancy Bickford, Kay Fenstermaker, Emma Hooks and Barbara Moyer whose efforts have been augmented by many other employees. In addition to developing the new waste disposal procedures, the team also plans to launch a formal hospital-wide program for recycling glass, paper and aluminum cans. More information about this program and its implementation will appear in future issues of CheckUp.

Hospital Seeking Participants For National Study

People with epilepsy (age 18 and over) are invited to participate in a national research study on the effectiveness of a combination of experimental and conventional drugs for controlling seizures.

The study will test the drug, Sabril, when used in conjunction with carbamazepine, a conventional epilepsy medicine commonly marketed as Tegretol.

In all, 360 patients whose seizures are not completely controlled by carbamazepine will participate in the study at 40 research sites in the U.S., according to Alexander Rae-Grant, MD, neurologist and the study's principal investigator at Lehigh Valley Hospital.

For the first three months of the 11 month study, participants will take only carbamazepine to determine their monthly seizure rate. Those who have one to four seizures per month will then receive Sabril or a placebo. Neither the participants nor the physicians treating them will know who is receiving which pill until the end of the study.

During the study, participants will undergo a medical history and physical and neurological exams. Urine and blood samples will be analyzed to ensure proper levels of carbamazepine. Six times during the study, participants will complete a quality of life questionnaire and a seizure severity assessment. They will also be asked to maintain a daily seizure calendar.

After completing the required steps in the study, participants who wish to continue their participation will be guaranteed to receive Sabril. Those who decide not to continue will have their study medication tapered off over a four-week period.

Sabril is manufactured by Marion Merrell Dow, Inc. and has had extensive use in Europe and other clinical studies.

For more information about the research, please call Joan Longenecker, research nurse, at (610) 402-9830.

Choice Plus Member Update

Choice Plus has announced a procedure change for group members.

Effective January 11, Walter's Pharmacy began accepting the $10 co-payment for prescription drugs and submitting the balance to Spectrum Administrators. This is the same process currently being followed at Health Spectrum Pharmacy Services.

Choice Plus members who receive their prescriptions at Lehigh Valley Hospital Pharmacy need to submit their claims to Spectrum Administrators for 100 percent reimbursement after they deduct the $10 co-payment. Prescription drugs purchased at a retail pharmacy will first be applied to the $200 deductible and then reimbursed 80 percent after the $5 co-payment. These claims must be submitted to Spectrum Administrators for reimbursement.

As a reminder, the dental plan for all employees (including those enrolled in Choice Plus) has not changed. It is the same coverage that was in place while employees were enrolled in the Lehigh Valley Health Network Inc. Health Plan.

Summary Plan descriptions will be distributed shortly. Until then, please use the information packet that was originally sent to you for a brief description of the coverage. If you have any questions regarding Choice Plus, please call Member Services at 402-7480.

United Way Campaign Wrapup

Nearly 1700 employees (or 35 percent of the hospital workforce) collectively contributed $120,000 to the United Way's 1994 Community Giving Campaign, a worthy cause that, for many, proved to be a winning proposition.

Among the employees selected by random drawing to receive prizes for their participation were Karen Deutsch who, as grand prize winner, has the enviable option of vacationing in Cancun or Disney World; Robert Lazansky and David Beckwith, gourmet dinners for 10 people at either hospital site; Rosemarie Balado and Arnette Odenwelder, weekend stays at a bed and breakfast; Frances Arenas, Debra Ann Knappenberger, James Rotherham, James Giardina and Susan Beers, dinners for two at some of the Lehigh Valley's finest restaurants; Betty Folajtar, tickets and transportation for two to a Broadway show; Donna Long, tickets and transportation for two to Radio City; Arlene Adamczak and Brian Stello, season passes to Dorney Park and Wildwater Kingdom; Mary Sollenberger and Jelena Dinic, two sets of 12 movie passes to an AMC theater; and Donna Berasley, Frances Maini, Brian Mory, Kerry Kratzer, Michelle Onushak, Richard Wagner, Alice Hemerly, Bethann Kretzman, Grace Fehnel and Tammy Schmick, reserved hospital parking for the entire year. In addition, 98 employees received a paid day off.

Works Published

Congratulations to the following individuals upon the publication of their work:

Terry Ann Capuano, Administrator, Patient Care Services, for "Clinical Pathways: Practical Approaches, Positive Outcomes." The article, appearing in the January 1995 edition of Nursing Management, outlines strategies to implement clinical pathways, with a focus on practical, organizational issues.

Mary T. Kinneman, Senior Vice President, Patient Care Services, and Kim S. Hitchings, Manager, Professional Development, for "A Professional Development Model to Foster Change." The article, appearing in the December 1994 edition of Seminars for Nurse Managers, stresses the importance of professional development to equip staff to adapt to change.

Isidore Mihalakis, MD, Chairman of Forensic Pathology/Postmortem Services, for co-authoring an article entitled "Gastrointestinal Syndrome After Accidental Overexposure During Radiotherapy." It appears in a new book Radiation and the Gastrointestinal Tract, published by CRC Press.

Congratulations...

To Lesley Zakos and Wendy Kowalchuk of the Medisgroups/Medical Records Department upon passing their ART certification in December.

To Gail Evans, Director of Operations, Development, who has merited certification as a fund raising executive by the National Society of Fund Raising Executives. Certification indicates that she has achieved a standard of tenure, performance, education, knowledge and service in the field of philanthropy.

To new mom, Amy Clancy, Physical Therapy Assistant (CC & I-78), and dad Rich Clancy on the birth of their daughter, Katelyn Elizabeth, who made her entrance on Oct. 13 weighing 7 lb., 7 1/4 oz. and measuring 20 1/2" long. She joins a sister, Emily Rose ...newlyweds Kevin Gohman, PT (CC & I-78) and wife Valerie on their January 14 nuptials. The couple will reside in Allentown.

Employees Relocate to New Departments

Beth Martin, who was stationed in the Development Department for the past seven years, has joined the Medical Staff Services office. She replaces Terri Kraft, who joined the Health Promotion and Disease Prevention Department. Martin's new extension is 8900; Kraft can be reached at ext. 5960.

Thank You!

Some of the spelling may be unconventional but there's no denying the sincerity of the sentiments. In colorful, hand-made cards and more formal letters on lined paper, students from Central School, Allentown, had a lot of nice things to say about the staff of Lehigh Valley Hospital. The students wrote to express their thanks for the more than 700 pairs of new gloves and mittens donated by hospital employees and distributed at the elementary school. The "Mitts for Kids" campaign was capably coordinated by the Community Outreach Committee of the Professional Nurse Council. Thanks to everyone for their heart (and hand) warming response to the campaign. Santa has now moved you to the top of his "nice" list.
