The Woman's League.

The Woman's League, after much trouble, have secured the talented lady whistling soloist, Miss Carrie Barkalow, to appear in the entertainment to be given in Music Hall, Feb. 22d, in aid of the hospital fund. The Morning Herald, of Reading, has this to say of her: "A number that all had been anxiously waiting for was the whistling solo, "The Dance of Joy," by Miss Carrie Barkalow. Scarcely any of the audience had ever heard Miss Barkalow before and many of them had serious doubts as to whether a woman really could whistle and wanted to see if there was any trick about it. They were fully convinced when they heard her, and came to the conclusion that women had a talent which had been much neglected. The selection was a most fortunate one, and it was with the greatest delight, and not a little wonder, that the audience listened to the clear liquid, Birdlike notes that were borne to every ear as if from throat of some feathered songster that had imbedded human intelligible and training. Miss Barkalow concluded amid tremendous applause.
