

Fundraiser= Girls charity club

The Morning Call

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlyworks.lvhn.org/historicalarchives>

Part of the Medicine and Health Sciences Commons

Let us know how access to this document benefits you

Published In/Presented At

Fundraiser= Girls charity club. (1899, July 31). The Morning Call.

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by LVHN Scholarly Works. It has been accepted for inclusion in LVHN Scholarly Works by an authorized administrator. For more information, please contact LibraryServices@lvhn.org.

THEY WORK FOR CHARITY.

A Number of Young Girls Laboring for the Hospital.

A number of girls residing in the vicinity of Twelfth and Hamilton streets have formed what they call a Charity Club, the object of which is to buy things for the hospital. The ages of these girls range from 10 to 12 years, yet, in spite of their youth, they realize the good the hospital is doing and are willing to assist with their savings of pennies, nickels and dimes in this good work. So far their fund has not grown to very large proportions, but if they keep on in the work as they have started their contribution will surprise their older friends. A short time ago these little girls felt that flowers might prove an acceptable gift and so at once carried a lot of flowers to the institution. Their gift was appreciated and the girls returned happy and encouraged. The club meets at the home of Miss Martha Babb, and these are the officers: Eva Mink, president; Florence Buchman, secretary, and Martha Babb, treasurer.