MAKE BAZAAR A SUCCESS

Lehigh Saengerbund Delighted Visitors With a Well Rendered Concert—Fine Entertainment Promised for To-Night.

The fair and bazaar for the benefit of the Allentown Hospital in Lehigh Valley Hall, has suffered immensely in patronage because of the rainy weather. The attendance last evening was slim, though the Lehigh Saengerbund patronized the booths liberally, together with giving a fine concert of vocal selection in German, without charge. They rendered the following program in admirable style under the direction of Professor H. A. Kline: "Greetings to Home," "Becker's March," "Mother's Love," "My Old Kentucky Home," sang for the first time in German at the convention of German singing societies held last year in Brooklyn; "Der Baum im Odonwald," "The Little Old Mother," "The Little Silver Brook," march song, and "Rose Freiheit." It is to be regretted that a larger crowd did not hear this excellent concert.

There is an impression abroad that the admission this evening will be advanced to twenty-five cents because of the cake walk by the colored friends of the hospital. This is a mistake. The admission will remain ten cents, though the entertainment will be well worth many times that price. Klagler's Orchestra will furnish the music.

The cake to be contested for will be donated by C. E. Bach, the baker on Gordon street. It will be massive size and elegantly ornamented. Home-made candies are wanted badly. Fresh home-made bread and doughnuts will be on sale to-morrow. The winners of the cakes on Tuesday evening were Miss Mary Renninger, Mrs. W. R. Kline and Mrs. Keyser. The ladies are indebted to Peters & Jacoby for donations of candy and to the Trexler Candy Company for twelve pounds of peanut brittle.

Articles for the fish pond would be cheerfully received. This is a favorite spot with many of the visitors and loads of good "catches" are made nightly.
