

Fundraiser- Young ladies bazaar

The Morning Call

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarlyworks.lvhn.org/historicalarchives>

Part of the Medicine and Health Sciences Commons

Published In/Presented At

Fundraiser- Young ladies bazaar. (1901, June 19). The Morning Call.

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by LVHN Scholarly Works. It has been accepted for inclusion in LVHN Scholarly Works by an authorized administrator. For more information, please contact LibraryServices@lvhn.org.

A WORTHY EXAMPLE.

Those young ladies who last week held a fair for the benefit of the hospital at the residence of one of their number and realized $80 set an example which is worthy of emulation. It shows what a few earnest workers can do if they go about it in the right manner. They charged one cent admission, and though that sum may appear to be a small and insignificant one, it is well to remember the axiom about "taking care of the pennies and dimes and the dollars taking care of themselves." Of course, the eighty dollars were not realized alone from admissions. There were various booths which were liberally patronized. There are many more young women who should do as well as those to whom we refer. The hospital needs all the assistance it can get.