Roadwork to Result in Added Safety, Access and Convenience

Lehigh Valley Hospital is initiating and funding a project that will ease the flow of traffic and improve automotive safety along Cedar Crest Boulevard and the hospital's main access road.

"The project, which will be completed in six phases, is designed to alleviate the congestion that makes driving conditions less than ideal for hospital and general traffic," says Ken Erland, Vice President, Facilities and Construction.

Phase 1

Contractors have completed Phase 1 of the project which included the removal of a median at the entrance to the hospital's main access road and two islands that allow drivers to ease off Cedar Crest Boulevard and onto the hospital campus or the 1243-1251 office buildings.

Phase 2

The second phase of the project began September 30 and will continue through October 27. During this time, a section of Cedar Crest Boulevard, extending north of the hospital to the I-78 exit ramp and south to Fish Hatchery Road, will be widened.

Phase 3 (October 25-30)

Phase 3 will begin as Phase 2 draws to a close and continue from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. daily. During this time, the intersection of the hospital's main entry drive and Cedar Crest Boulevard will be widened to facilitate traffic flow into and out of the hospital campus.

Phase 4 (October 17 - November 11)

Concurrent with Phase 3, contractors will proceed with Phase 4 and plans to widen the inbound and outbound main and south access roads to the hospital.

Phase 5 (November 12-30)

During Phase 5, a median will be installed in the center of the hospital's main access road along with two islands to ease traffic in and out of the hospital.

Phase 6 (April 1995)

The project will be suspended during the winter months and resume in April 1995 for the final phase when the Cedar Crest Boulevard southbound left-turn lane will be extended.

Meanwhile, a second angiography room has been added to the Radiology Department in space previously occupied by a special procedures room. The lithotripsy addition has already been evaluated and passed inspection by state officials.

Learn More About TB

The most important steps in preventing TB transmission are early detection of patients who have infectious TB, prompt application of TB isolation precautions, and timely initiation of effective treatment in those patients likely to have TB. The TB Performance Improvement Team of Lehigh Valley Hospital, which consists of physicians and representatives from the departments of Safety, Engineering, Microbiology, Employee Health, Respiratory Therapy, and Infection Control, worked together to develop a tool for rapidly identifying known or suspected cases of infectious TB and promptly initiating appropriate precautions.

An information sheet titled Learn More About Tuberculosis (TB) (attached to this newsletter) was developed to identify individuals with signs or symptoms suggestive of infectious tuberculosis. The information sheet can be an effective tool in the physician office setting in identifying patients who have infectious TB. Such individuals, when identified, should be removed from the waiting area and given a surgical mask until evaluated by the physician.

The information sheet can be given to each patient upon registration and kept in the expectation that it will not only serve to identify potentially infectious individuals, but also serve as an educational tool for the patient, family, and community.

If you have any questions regarding TB or any other infection control issues, please contact Elaine Walz, R.N., C.I.C., Infection Control Nurse Specialist, at 402-2413.

Outpatient Testing to be Consolidated

Also on the first floor, renovations are proceeding on schedule for a unit that will consolidate outpatient diagnostic services including EEG, EKG, Respiratory Therapy, Pulmonary Function, and Heart Station. However, to facilitate the ambulatory surgery project, EEG, EKG, Respiratory Therapy, and Heart Station have been temporarily relocated to the ICU since the outpatient testing unit will not be completed until mid-October.
Valley Preferred News

The staff of Valley Preferred would like to take this opportunity to thank all the practice managers and staff for attending the meetings offered throughout September and October. These meetings included information on Valley Preferred employer groups and, at the end of September, also included the orientation to the Choice Plus healthcare option.

There has been some confusion in reference to claims submission for Valley Preferred. The process is as follows:

1. Practice must submit all claims to: Valley Preferred or Spectrum Administrators as stated on the member’s card:
   2166 S. 12th Street
   Allentown, PA 18103

2. Do not bill patient for ANY services until the EOB is received.

3. Utilize your practice process for handling all delinquent claims. Do not contact the company benefits director.

4. Please address all questions regarding claims/benefits payments to the CLAIMS telephone number of the member’s card.

Also, please note in the Choice Plus Provider Manual, on pages 6.1 and 6.2 of the Utilization Management section, the telephone number for Pre-admission Certification and Concurrent/Continued Stay Review is incorrect. The correct number to call Utilization Management is 402-7417. Please note this correction in your manual.

If you have any questions or require a review of the Plan procedures for your staff, please call Patti Sarik, Valley Preferred Provider Relations, at 402-7437.

Managed Care Tips
by Mary Jo Shields, R.N., M.B.A.,
Administrator, Cardiology Care Specialists

Entry into the world of managed care will create confusion in most medical practices. A whole new set of rules apply to patient care, and they impact on almost every member of the practice from physicians to scheduling and front desk personnel.

When several managed care contracts are entered into, the confusion grows.

Answers to questions like "Is there a copay for office visits and how much is it?" and "What must be pre-certified?" become very important.

Developing a method to ensure that the staff has the appropriate information available to answer these questions quickly and easily becomes a necessity. Several methods can be considered. In a smaller practice, developing a sheet with a matrix of providers and their requirements may be sufficient. As more provider contracts are signed, a rolodex with each company and their requirements can be designed and used. For more complex plans with different requirements for each employer, we found the simplest method was to create a managed care manual.

The manual is divided into the different plans in which we participate. It was easily put together with information supplied directly to us by the insurance companies; the staff did not have to spend a lot of time writing out information to create the manual. Each individual area such as the front desk, billing and scheduling created a manual unique to their requirements for the information they needed to access quickly. As plans and employers change, the manuals will be easy to update by removing the old sheets and inserting the new information.

Breast Cancer: Facts and Factors

The United States and Canada have the highest rates of breast cancer in the world, say the American and Canadian Cancer Societies. In 1993, an estimated 182,000 cases were diagnosed in women in the United States; 16,300 in Canada. Breast cancer was the cause of death for more than 51,000 women in both countries last year. But awareness and early detection efforts have helped increase survival rates. The five-year survival rate for localized breast cancer is 93 percent.

The American and Canadian Cancer Societies recommend that women begin mammogram screening by age 40; women 40 to 49 should have a mammogram every two years; women over 50 should have a screening every year. Monthly breast self-examinations are suggested for women over age 20.

Warning signals include breast changes that persist, such as a lump, thickening, swelling, dimpling, skin irritation, distortion, pain, or tenderness of the nipple. Risk increases with age and with a family history of cancer.

Diet Can Trigger Headaches

Diet can be a factor in triggering the throbbing pain of a migraine headache. Researchers say migraine attacks -- also characterized by dizziness, disturbances of vision, sensitivity to light and sound, and nausea and vomiting -- can often be avoided by shunning foods such as: ripened cheeses (cheddar, brie and camembert); chocolate; anything fermented, pickled or marinated; sourdough bread; and foods containing monosodium glutamate (MSG), such as soy sauce, meat tenderizer, and seasoned salt. Also to be avoided are alcoholic beverages (particularly red wine and beer) and excessive amounts of caffeinated drinks.

The National Headache Foundation recommends noting the foods you eat to determine if removal reduces or eliminates migraine attacks.

Try It, You’ll Like It

The facts are no longer in dispute: Smoking is a major, yet preventable cause of ill-health and premature death. Quitting smoking for just one day will bring an immediate positive improvement in health, according to the American Cancer Society.

For one thing, within 12 hours, blood pressure, pulse rate, and blood oxygen will return to normal levels. There will also be a dramatic drop in the blood’s carbon monoxide levels. Headaches and stomach aches caused by smoking will disappear. Stamina, vigor, and even the sense of taste and smell will improve. After just one non-smoking day, breathing will come easier. Of course, there will be truly great long-term health benefits from quitting -- probably years added to the quitter’s life.
Observances & Dates to Remember

November: National Diabetes Month, National Epilepsy Awareness Month, National Hospice Month

November 17: Great American Smokeout - The country's 46 million smokers will be encouraged to kick the habit for at least 24 hours. Last year, about one out of five smokers participated in the annual "cease-fire."

December: Human Rights Month, Safe Toys and Gifts Month, Winter Solstice

December 1: United Nations World AIDS Day - The World Health Organization has dedicated this day to raising international awareness of and increasing education about AIDS.

Tip of the Month

Putting a caller on hold may be necessary but it can irritate the caller if done clumsily. The caller should be given the choice of holding or getting a call back. So always ask if the caller can hold -- and then be sure to wait for an answer. After all, the caller can hang up, and call a competitor.

Nancy Friedman, a consultant in St. Louis, Mo., also urges telephone users to give full attention to every phone conversation, and not to engage in other activities, such as typing on a computer, while talking or listening. "Talking on the phone should be like driving a car. You need all your faculties...to stay in control of the conversation," she says.
